++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Patchy rain west, brighter in east. Mild.

Today:
A mostly cloudy start with patchy light rain around, the rain becoming increasingly confined to Galloway and the western Southern Uplands. However it will become brighter, across the Lothians and Borders, with some sunny spells developing. Occasionally fresh westerly winds. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy rain in west at first this evening but becoming mainly dry with, especially in the east, some long clear spells developing. Freshening southwesterly winds becoming occasionally strong around coasts. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Thursday:
A bright morning with sunny spells but increasing cloud brings outbreaks of rain southeast through the afternoon, the rain most persistent and occasionally heavy in west. Occasionally strong southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Mainly dry with sunny spells Friday and Saturday morning with early frosts. More unsettled, but milder again, through the rest of the weekend with outbreaks of rain.
